

mail with its contents they gathered in groups to discuss the document, both with reference to points made by the President and the policy of the President in writing it. So intense was the general interest that for two or three days after the session was held to routine proceedings on the floor of the Senate.

While no Senator hesitated to express his views privately, the Democratic Senators were loath to submit to interviews for publication. They said the circumstances were so unusual and their action as a body being in opposition to the position taken by the President they could not give publicity to their opinions whatever they might be. The Republican Senators were at first inclined to express themselves very freely on the policy of the letter, but when they discovered, they soon did, that the Democratic colleagues were determined to remain silent on the subject, they changed their policy as if by common consent, and announced, when spoken to upon the subject, that they preferred the Democrats should do all the talking, declaring it was a time for Republicans to be silent. The most common expression among the Senators was that the writing of such a letter was "very extraordinary."

It was in many instances where the speaker and many of not being quoted, stronger words were used. These expressions were heard with slight variations on both Democratic and Republican sides of the chamber.

The proceedings in the Senate tomorrow are expected to be of unusual interest. It is hardly possible that any of the Senators will express any personal resentment, but there are expected to be some very emphatic declarations against a change of front by the Senate, especially from the conservative Senators, who are regarded as responsible for the most pronounced increase made in the tariff bill.

It was understood that several of these Senators, including Senators Gorman, Smith and Price, had announced a purpose to state to the Senate that only the Senate bill could pass, and to say in giving their reasons for this view that the bill had been the result of most careful deliberation on the part of the members of the Senate. It had been found to be the only bill that could pass when the Jones amendments had been arranged in the caucus, and then an attempt to change it materially at this late date would prove there had been no modification of sentiment since that time.

Senator Hill has announced an intention to take advantage of the President's position and influence to make another effort to secure a recession by the Senate from its amendments for a duty on coal and iron, and he is said to believe that he would double the vote which his proposition received when first advanced.

During the afternoon there were several conferences between the Democratic leaders, and at first there was disposition to refuse further conference on the tariff bill. This was advised by quite a number who felt much aggravated at the course taken by the House and the Republican steering committee has held a meeting, and the general opinion was expressed that it was good policy to allow the Democrats to do most of the talking, the subject and the House side, the question as to whether the tariff situation had been simplified or further complicated by the President's letter, was the subject of much speculation, after the stirring proceedings of the day.

Members on both sides of the chamber agreed that it would have a profound impression on the situation, but there was a disposition to wait until the House had passed the bill before the Senate had been seen. The President's letter, it is said, has been a great help to the House side, the question as to whether the tariff situation had been simplified or further complicated by the President's letter, was the subject of much speculation, after the stirring proceedings of the day.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—SENATE.—When the Senate met today the conference report on the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill was read and approved. Senator Voorhees, the Senate manager of the conference on the tariff bill, rising to a privileged question, asked that the House message on the tariff bill be laid before the Senate. Senator Voorhees stated that he was commissioned to say the bill had been under full and free conference, and that the amendments agreed to in the Senate, and that the conference insisted on their amendments. Having consulted members on both sides he said he should ask to have the bill lay on the table to be taken up for consideration tomorrow, immediately after the reading of the Journal. The motion to lay on the table was agreed to.

When the tariff bill had thus been disposed of, the Indian Appropriation bill was taken up. The most important amendment was offered by Senator Shoup of Idaho, directing the President to appoint three commissioners to allot in severalty the lands of the Uncompagne Indians in Utah and to negotiate with the Uncompagne Indians in Utah for the allotment of their lands in severalty, and the relinquishment of all lands not needed for this purpose.

An amendment was agreed to, directing the Secretary of the Interior to inquire into the propriety of discontinuing the Indian contract schools as rapidly as possible without interfering with the education of the Indian children, and to report at the next session of Congress an estimate of the cost of substituting government schools for all the contract schools now existing. A further amendment was adopted appropriating $15,000 due the Wyandotte Indians to purchase lands in severalty from the Government in the Indian Territory for absentee Wyandotte Indians. The bill was then passed.

At 5:40 p.m. the Senate went into executive session and shortly thereafter adjourned.

HOUSE.—The galleries were crowded in anticipation of a debate on the tariff conference report when the House met today. When Chairman Wilson entered with his head bowed with a handkerchief and evidently suffering great pain, the Democratic members cheered wildly. As soon as the reading of the Journal was completed, Mr. Outwater of Ohio, from the Committee on Rules, offered the following resolutions: "That after the adoption of this resolution it will be in order when the House conference on the House bill No. 10,000, of the tariff, makes a report of disagreement, to move that the House insist upon the tariff bill in gross, and ask further conference with the Senate on the same."

The disagreement as to the votes of the two houses thereon; that two hours' debate be allowed upon said motion, and that without other motion, that a vote be taken thereon. Should the motion prevail, the Speaker shall at once appoint the House conferees and the matter shall be taken from the floor of the Senate.

Mr. Hopkins attempted to offer an amendment to extend the time to four hours, but objection was made. The previous question was ordered. This gave thirty minutes for debate.

Mr. Reed objected to this summary rule. He thought the members of the Democratic side who desired time to express their opinions on the amendments should be given time. With a twinkling of an eye, he held ten minutes to Mr. Johnson of Ohio.

Mr. Johnson protested against the special order because it gave the House no opportunity to vote separate instructions to the conferees. He said the Democratic side was discriminated in the sugar schedule in favor of the trust as criminal, and declared that if the sugar trust or any other trust was to be legislated for, it made little difference whether that legislation was imposed upon them by the McKinley or the Gorman bill.

"If the House insist upon its disagreement," interjected Mr. Warner of New York, "that would practically be an instruction to the conferees to insist upon the tariff bill in gross, and ask further conference with the Senate on the same."

"After what Mr. Johnson has said," Mr. Reed replied, "the House can see that it would do itself harm if it adopted this rule."

Mr. Reed then gave the House no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill.

Mr. Outwater, on behalf of the Committee on Rules, replied to Mr. Reed. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill.

"Why not give us an opportunity to vote separately on sugar?" inquired Mr. Johnson.

"Up to this time," said Mr. Outwater, in reply, I judge that there is no difference between the House and the Senate. I am sure that there is no difference between the House and the Senate. I am sure that there is no difference between the House and the Senate.

Mr. Reed, in closing, referring to Mr. Outwater's eulogy of the House conferees, asked what courage amounted to in the tariff situation. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill. He said the House had no opportunity to express its opinion on the tariff bill.

Without further debate the vote was taken on the amendment. The House agreed to the amendment. The House agreed to the amendment. The House agreed to the amendment.

LOOKS LIKE BUSINESS.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—General Superintendent Fillmore was asked tonight about the business done by the railroad here today, and replied: "We sent out from here today 154 cars of freight. Thirty-seven cars were of fruit, eastbound, and the balance mostly freight for the North and West. We received from the East today fifty-nine cars of freight. Two east-bound passenger trains went out. All the main-line locals in and out of here are running on schedule time. Tomorrow we expect to get out six east-bound freight trains about half of them containing fruit. Some fruit cars will be sent out on passenger trains. We will have five or six west-bound freight trains out of Truett tomorrow."

"We have sufficient switchmen coming on the trains to arrive from Ogden and Portland tomorrow to equip our yard fully; also, additional brakemen and firemen to man all our trains. In some cases where we are putting on new firemen, experienced men, but new to this division, where we use heavy engines, we are putting two firemen on an engine until they get broke in. This will prevent the necessity of tying up trains on account of inexperienced men. Tomorrow we expect to get out six east-bound freight trains about half of them containing fruit. Some fruit cars will be sent out on passenger trains. We will have five or six west-bound freight trains out of Truett tomorrow."

WENT TOO FAR.

Associated Press Leased-Wire Service.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—It looks very much as if Atty.-Gen. Olney's Southern Pacific Railroad bomb had exploded in his own hands. According to dispatches received here, Olney's instructions to District Atty. Deane to let the act-trust law of July 21, 1890, be enforced against all violators, including railroad and transportation companies.

Olney expected this to operate against the strikers in the way in which he has been, with effect, to President Cleveland. He thought that the point at issue would be simply that the Southern Pacific Railroad refused to attempt to carry the United States mails. Attorney Deane, however, under the authority conferred in Olney's telegram, could properly make complaint involving all the provisions of the act-trust law, and this he did. Olney, from all that he has said in his interviews with representatives of the press, is now wroth with Deane. To some correspondents he denied that he had given authority to press suits of this nature, but to none has he denied that such suits may be opened under his instructions.

In the statements made by his subordinates, to the effect that combinations as indulged in by the Southern Pacific corporation are wholly legal in the eyes of the department, they only repeat Olney's views on the validity of the act-trust law. Unfortunately for his contention, however, it is a fact that under the State law of Texas, which is similar in effect to the act-trust law, similar to President Cleveland, he was against the railroads. Gov. Hogg of Texas, who is in Washington, said:

"This occurred about four years ago, when I was Attorney-General of Texas. Our law required that there should be separate officers and management of the separate railroads. The Southern Pacific corporation, and I instituted proceedings to enforce this law with respect to certain roads which form a part of the Southern Pacific system. The result was a successful one, and the management of these roads, which had previously been one and the same, are now separate and different. These roads are the Texas and New Orleans, the Galveston, Houston and San Antonio, and the Sunset Line, which connects these with the rest of the Southern Pacific. I do not know the validity of these suits, but I believe that the law is in this nature, and this was the law and I enforced it."

"The court adjourned for the noon recess."

Atty. Gen. Olney's Decision and its Relation to the Act-Trust Law.

CHICAGO, July 19.—"Mr. Salotti's decision sustaining Bishop Waterson's decision prohibiting saloon-keepers from membership in the Catholic church, which was received with great satisfaction by Catholics generally, and by all interested in the work of temperance," said W. J. Onahan, secretary of the Catholic Congress held in Chicago during the World's Fair.

"It shows how closely Mr. Salotti is in touch with the sentiment of the Catholic country, the growing sentiment against the liquor traffic. This decision is exactly in accord with the platform and resolutions adopted by the Catholic congress held here during the World's Fair."

"Mr. Salotti's action will give great strength and impulse and heartiness to the National Catholic Temperance Congress, which will be held in Chicago on August 1. While the present effect of the decision is local and applies only to the diocese of Columbus, the moral influence of it will be widespread."

"I think Mr. Salotti's decision means that he did not want to interfere with Bishop Waterson's affairs in the diocese of Columbus, which is held by the Catholic hierarchy of the whiskey trust. The ruling has effect only on that diocese."

"It is not the church opposed to the liquor traffic, but the saloon-keepers who are opposed to it. If so much liquor as may be used by drinking men without going to excess is consumed, would the sales fall off greatly?"

"I think not. The few men who drink to excess are always in evidence and attract the attention of the law. The vast majority of men who drink moderately are not noticed. I believe the very large proportion of the liquor consumed in this country is used by men who drink quietly and moderately and without harm to themselves or any one else."

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Correspondents are again requested to practice brevity in writing to The Times. Letters bearing upon the existing situation continue to be received by every mail in such numbers that to print them in extenso is practically impossible. The Times desires to give every one who wishes to do so an opportunity of expressing his or her views, and to this end we again urge upon our correspondents to practice brevity.

THE HARBOR QUESTION.

We republish this morning some interesting Washington dispatches to Eastern journals on the subject of the attempt which is being made by the Southern Pacific Company to reverse the decision of the government engineers in favor of San Pedro as a site for a government deep-water harbor. These dispatches show very plainly that the Eastern press is beginning to understand this question thoroughly, and that Southern California will not have to depend entirely on its own efforts to secure justice.

While the strike was on—while lawless men were seeking to interfere with the business of the Southern Pacific and other railroad corporations, and to destroy their property—The Times did not consider it an opportune time to take up the discussion of this or any other outside questions affecting the companies; but, on the contrary, we deemed our simple public duty to be an unwavering support of law and order, and the defense of the property rights and interests which had been assailed without justification. Now, however, that the strike is over, we shall again refer from time to time to this question of a harbor site, of so much importance to Los Angeles, and upon which, it is scarcely necessary for us to say, our views, as frequently and fully expressed in these columns, have undergone no change whatever.

After a very hard fight, Mr. Collie P. Huntington of the Southern Pacific Company has succeeded in getting the Senate committee to go so far as to decide to visit the Coast again and inspect the government harbor site at San Pedro, and the proposed site at Santa Monica. It is stated that if it had not been for the recent strong expression of sentiment on the part of the people of Los Angeles he would have succeeded in getting an appropriation through the Senate for Santa Monica. Mr. Huntington may think that the appointment of this visiting committee is a long step toward an appropriation for Santa Monica, but we do not share that belief. One of the members of this committee—Senator Jones—is heavily interested in the question, and decency would have dictated that he should not have taken such a prominent part. Two other members of the committee are believed to be closely allied to the Southern Pacific Company. These facts are known to members of Congress, and are becoming known to the people at large.

Should this committee decide in favor of Santa Monica, the question will be by no means definitely settled. The committee is not the Senate; it is not the House; it is not Congress; it is not composed of engineers who understand their business. The idea that a report from such a committee could be permitted to override several reports from expert government engineers is preposterous. The lower house is jealous of its privileges, and will certainly not bow down to the report of such a committee, should it be against the reports which have been made by experts. They will demand a technical report, and if Congress still desires further information on the subject the best thing to do would be to send out some authorities from the War Department—not hired employees of the Southern Pacific, but some genuine government engineers who know the coast.

Private advisers from Washington gentlemen who have been watching the interests of the people in this matter, say that it is not at all likely that this Senate committee, when it comes, will go back upon the reports of the engineers. Still, in view of the well-known persistence of the Southern Pacific Company in such cases, it would not be advisable for the public here to relax their vigilance, or to forget that the question is not so much whether Santa Monica or San Pedro is the best or cheapest site, as whether Los Angeles county—and Southern California—is to have a deep-water harbor open to all comers, or one which is controlled by a single corporation.

THE PASSING OF THE STRIKE.

The great A.R.U. strike may now be considered a thing of the past, and will soon be history. The only points where the strikers seem to retain even a semblance of keeping up the fight are at Oakland and Sacramento, and even there most of them who are able to do so are going back to work. The leaders of the A.R.U. in Chicago are evidently becoming desperate, as they say that their cause is lost. The latest scheme is to try to show that the burning of cars at Chicago was done by the railroad companies themselves. Only desperate men could circulate such an absurd report.

The fact that Gen. Miles has ordered the troops out of Chicago may be taken as evidence that there is not likely to be any more serious trouble there.

At a meeting of trades unions in Indiana the question of inviting Debs to become the candidate of the unions for Governor of the State was brought up, and, after a hot discussion, the resolution was adopted by three majorities, may not voting. If this is the best that can be done by our own followers, what chance does Mr. Debs think he would have of getting elected? That peculiar Governor, Mr. Hogg of Texas, has been again growling about the outrage inflicted on the country by President Cleveland in ordering Federal troops to various points. Mr. Hogg also predicts that within six months many terrible things are going to happen, including revolution and a possible dismemberment of the republic. Mr. Hogg is probably displeased because the Federal government made such short work of his friends, the rioters.

As we prophesied would be the case, a number of industries are taking advantage of the strike to either close down or reduce their working forces. The latest step in this direction has been the closing of the railroad shops on a portion of the Union Pacific system, which will throw hundreds of men out of employment, and paralyze business in that section. This is only a small portion of the work which Mr. Debs has accomplished.

Marshal Baldwin has very pertinently replied to the Sacramento strikers who offered him services as deputies that the best thing they can do is to abstain from committing unlawful acts, when there would be no occasion for the presence of the military nor need of their services as deputy marshals. Mr. Baldwin has done some weak and foolish things since the strike began, but this is not one of them.

THE NORTH POLE.

It is proposed that the United States Congress complete explorations of the North and South poles and make an annual appropriation of $25,000 for this purpose. So many unsuccessful attempts have been made in this direction during the past thirty years that the search for the pole has come to be regarded by most people as an ignis fatuus. Many valuable lives and a large amount of money have been sacrificed in the attempt to find the spot which lies under the Polar Star, and the question is asked what good would it do, supposing the pole were finally discovered. It is, however, always striving after the unattainable. The very fact that the pole is a hard place to reach creates a strong desire on the part of many enterprising people to go there. It is also quite possible that a successful expedition of this sort might make discoveries of an interesting or even startling character. There are many who believe that an open sea surrounds the pole, where the climate is much milder than it is at the equator. Some even believe that an unknown race of people will be discovered in that mysterious region. One of the most extraordinary of all the theories is that which was advanced by Clives Symmes, who maintained that there is a big hole at the pole, and that vessels have actually sailed some distance into it. A son of Symmes holds to the theory advanced by his father—who, by the way, was an "Ohio man."

The naval "stability board" has completed and submitted to the Secretary of the Navy its report upon the stability of the battleships Indiana, Massachusetts and Oregon. Practical heeling or inclining tests were made to ascertain the behavior of the vessels under all possible conditions of load. The result is highly gratifying to the department, for it justifies in all respects the designs of the vessels, and shows that they are superior to any warship afloat of corresponding size. The calculations of the Bureau of Construction, when the designs of the vessels were completed, showed that they were to have, with 400 tons of coal aboard and all weights, a total estimated weight of 10,993 tons. The actual weight or displacement was 10,162 tons, a variation of only two-thirds of 1 per cent.

There have been many prophecies as to the manner in which the pension roll was growing and the ruinous extent to which it would continue to grow during the next few years, but from all appearances these prophecies are not likely to be fulfilled. The current is at present turning the other way. Pension Commissioner Lochren says that on July 1 he will return to the United States treasury $25,000,000 unexpended balance of the pension appropriation for the current year. This appropriation was $165,000,000, made on the basis of Mr. Raim's estimate for $180,000,000, but he was asked to reduce that amount, which he did, but prophesied that there would be a deficiency of at least $15,000,000. At the end of the present fiscal year the expected deficiency did not occur, but there is instead a surplus of $25,000,000, making a difference of $40,000,000 in the estimate submitted by the two commissioners of pensions. This is satisfactory as long as no hardship is inflicted upon worthy veterans, but the better spirit of the country—the spirit which is strongly predominant in this country—plainly does not ask nor expect a saving to be made in the pension roll at the expense of those brave men who sacrificed their lives for the country.

FOR THE CLARKE MONUMENT FUND.

The State of Massachusetts has made an important, and, doubtless beneficial, change in its highway law. The new measure is designed to practically secure for the State an improved system of roads within a few years. The sum of $300,000 is appropriated, and to make sure that it shall be applied where most needed, the counties taking any part of this sum are obliged to return one-fourth of the same with 3 per cent. interest, which sum will be yearly added to the fund to be expended by the State commission in such a way that if the commission deems it advisable the whole amount shall be returned in six years. The commission can act on petition of county commissioners, the Mayor or Aldermen of a city, or the selectmen of a town. Roads are to be constructed by contract, in accordance with proposals duly advertised. To make sure that the money will be fairly apportioned among the several counties, the law provides that not more than ten miles of road shall be constructed in one county without the approval of the Governor and Council.

A new machine for grinding a log into paper pulp and producing a fiber believed to be much better than that obtained by the Votter method, is reported from New England, but without names of inventors or place of trial. The case of the machine is of metal, over one inch thick, and very heavily made. Throughout its surface it is pierced with holes, and the inner surface is corrugated. Within is a heavy cylinder, the outer surface of which is corrugated, the corrugations running in a direction opposite to those of the casing. When the cylinder is set in motion, and a log of wood is placed between cylinder and casing, the corrugations strip the wood into a soft, fluffy, fibrous material, almost like cotton; so nearly like it, in fact, as to be mistaken for cotton by the uninitiated.

The agreement made between England and Germany about the division of African territory does not promise to make a final settlement. France and Belgium, especially the former, are very jealous of both English and German influence in Africa. The Belgians have an army of 250,000 men in the upper Congo, which is one of the districts that France claims, while both England and Germany concede the right of the Belgians to be where they are. It is possible that in the change of administration, which the death of the French President will make, France and Belgium may come in conflict in Africa. If this occurs England and Germany must also be involved.

President Cleveland in more ways than one has shown himself to be a man of strong and impetuous desires, but the fact probably never came home with more force to the members of Congress than it did yesterday when an official message in the guise of a private letter to Representative Wilson was read in the House instructing the members as to what they should do with regard to the tariff conference.

A DISORDERED STATE.

The Mosquito Country Likely to Be the Scene of Much Bloodshed.

NEW YORK, July 20.—The World this morning prints the following: "MANAGUA, July 19.—People returning from the Mosquito country report that the region is in a state bordering upon anarchy. The Indians are warlike and determined to assert their rights. Further bloodshed is expected at any moment, and it may only end when Nicaraguans or Indians strip the wood into a soft, fluffy, fibrous material, almost like cotton; so nearly like it, in fact, as to be mistaken for cotton by the uninitiated.

A German Lutheran Synod. PITTSBURGH, July 19.—The synod of the Eastern District of Missouri of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church convened here yesterday. Two hundred and fifty ministers, lay delegates and teachers answered the roll-call. The afternoon session was taken up with the appointment of committees and other routine work. The conference will be in session until Tuesday next. The synodical conference is the largest of the Lutheran bodies, comprising all the territory east of Ohio, and from Maine to Virginia. It has about 150 ministers and 180 congregations.

Today's session of the synod was devoted entirely to a discussion of the subject of the inspiration of the Bible. The synod held that the scriptures were true, entirely, are the word of God, admitting of no errors on the part of the holy rites, and that the Bible is the inspired word of God.

ARTISTIC NOTES.

Chief Johnson Secures a New Design for the $1 Silver Certificate. Associated Press Lead-wire Service.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Claude M. Johnson, the chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, today received from Secretary Carlisle his approval of a new design for the $1 silver certificate. Johnson, during the last year or more, has been engaged in working out an artistic unit design for a bank note, and his present achievement is regarded as a triumph.

The details of the work were done by the well-known artist, Will H. Lowe, and the design engraving the plate will be done by Charles Schloeka, who is now engaged in engraving the World's Fair diploma. Work on the design for the new $1 silver certificate will soon begin. The design represents history instructing youth. History is represented by a female figure, in a reclining position, with her arm around a youth and the left arm extended forward, pointing toward the city of Washington, in the background, showing the dome of the Capitol and the Washington monument. The open pages of a book on the other end of the note contains the Constitution of the United States. The border consists of wreaths extended in the work of the artist, which is the name of some prominent man, who has figured in the history of the country, as a statesman, author, inventor, soldier or sailor. This design, one of a series of the silver certificates, which will be produced by Lowe, Walter Shirlaw of New York and other artists. It is claimed by Johnson that the money of the country should not only be as valued intrinsically as the money of any other country, but should be better than an advertisement of the work of some prominent man, who has figured in the history of the country, as a statesman, author, inventor, soldier or sailor. SQUEEZED TO DEATH.

Fate of Three Miners in a Williamsport, Pa. Colliery.

The accident happened as the men were coming to the surface after having completed their shift. The hoisting apparatus became disarranged and in some manner forced the car tightly against the slope. Associated Press Lead-wire Service. MINNEAPOLIS, July 19.—The most serious fire in the history of the city broke out about 9 o'clock tonight, and before it was extinguished, destroyed property to the value of $500,000, leaving in ruins the finest market building in the country. The origin was not learned, but the flames broke out in the commission-house of Daddsworth & Drew, located in the center of the new Central Market building, which was bounded by Second and Third avenues, north and south and Seventh streets, covering an entire block. The building was constructed at a cost of $250,000. It had a frontage and depth on one side of 320 feet, and on the rear and opposite side was 100 feet wide, being four and five stories high and of pressed brick.

In addition to its purposes as a market it was used by fifty commission merchants,

Theodore Fox Accuses Them of Misappropriations.

He Demands an Accounting of Con. Cal. and Va. Affairs.

New Trees Planted in San Bernardino County—Washouts at El Rio—The San Francisco Mint to Coin Silver.

Associated Press Lead-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Theodore Fox has commenced suit against J. W. Mackay and Senator John P. Jones, C. K. Fish, G. R. Wells and Cornelius O'Connor, to obtain an accounting of the affairs of the Consolidated California and Virginia Mining Company. Fox alleges that between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 has been wrongfully appropriated by the defendants.

Fox says that Mackay, Jones and the late James G. Flood conspired to manipulate the mine wholly in their interests. He says the Comstock MIN and Mining Company was paid $7 a ton for crushing ore, when $4 would have been a fair price. As Mackay, Jones and Flood controlled the mining company, they received the benefit of the overcharge, amounting to $2,000,000. Fox also claims that the ore was so crushed as to leave the most valuable part in the tailings, which, when worked over by the mill, yielded to three conspirators an additional profit of $2,500,000.

There is also a complaint that Mackay, Jones and Flood caused to be issued to themselves 33,000 shares of stock, at $1 per share, which stock was afterward worth in open market $587,816. Fox demands an accounting of all these transactions, and judgment for such amount as the accounting shall show.

PASADENA.
Trustees Trying to Fix the School District Muddle.

Legal Advice Called For to Set Matters Right—The Encampment Installation—Death of Dr. Isham—Notes and Personal Mention.

PASADENA, July 19.—(Special Correspondence.) The news printed so fully in The Times of this date regarding the status of the proposed new issue of school bonds, and incidentally of the Board of Education itself, crossed quite a furor in Pasadena, and was generally discussed everywhere. There was manifested much feeling of disappointment that the construction of the needed new school building would be delayed as a result of the adverse decision on the validity of the bonds, but there are hopes that no more serious complications will arise from the discovery of the technical illegal formation of this school district. The Board of Education—Trustees Boynton, Hartwell and Arnold—today consulted A. R. McCall, Esq., on the subject, and the attorney expressed a hope that the matter is not as black as it at first appears. He was not prepared to give an opinion in such short order, however, but will have one ready to hand tomorrow. Until then the board will be in suspense and will avoid transacting any official business.

The opinion of Mr. Arthur, printed in full in this paper, was so comprehensive that no attorney could feel safe in venturing any contradictory expression as to the grounds maintained, though it is said that Dist. Atty. Dill has asserted that the school district could be sustained. Time, however, will tell. Deputy District Attorney Liley and the board have been paid for their services. It is said that the board will have their labor for their pains.

ORANGE COUNTY.

These are Busy Times in the Apricot Orchards.

All Available Hands are at Work at Good Wages—A Permanent Exhibit by the Chamber of Commerce—Notes.

SANTA ANA, July 19.—(Special Correspondence.) There never were busier times in Orange County than the present time. The many apricot orchards are now in full bearing, and the fruit is being picked and packed for shipment. There are men, women and children, all working happily together under a canvas canopy, the air is fragrant with the sweet perfume of ripened fruit and, upon the whole, the scene is a most pleasing and pleasant one.

Until this week the ripening of apricots has been slow on account of the cool weather, but the past few days have been regular ripeners, and now everybody is kept busy. The crop is very large, and a result, the fruit is not as large as usual, but is of fine quality, and the cutters, who have been working by the tray, or hundred weight, are not able to make very big wages. The demand for cutters is said to exceed the supply and wages, therefore, for this kind of labor are very high.

Visitors from the East should visit some of the fruit ranches of Orange county at this time of year if they want to see how apricots are picked and packed. The fruit is picked and packed in a most satisfactory manner, and the fruit is of fine quality.

BRING ON YOUR FRUIT.
It does not seem to be generally known by the residents of the county, that the Chamber of Commerce is preparing a permanent exhibit of apricots, peaches, apples and, in fact, all products of whatever nature, to be exhibited, as soon as deemed advisable, some convenient store in this city, for the entertainment and education of the Eastern tourists, who are almost constantly visiting the county, and for the benefit of the permanent residents, for some of their Eastern friends, and yet it is a fact and the exhibit is growing in popularity.

Secretary Rouse of the Chamber of Commerce has been working very hard all the time working with the fruit and vegetables that are now being brought in, preparing them for the exhibit, and putting them in jars that are used in the county exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago, and as a result of his labor, he is doing a very good shape that is a most creditable showing for the county.

At this season of the year large quantities of delicious fruits are being handled, and if the growers will bear in mind while gathering the fruit, that the Chamber of Commerce desires specimens of all varieties for the permanent exhibit, and will make sections and forward to the Chamber of Commerce in this city, or send in word to the secretary so that arrangements can be made to send them to the exhibit, and a deal can be done toward increasing the exhibit and making it more attractive.

The present time the exhibit is located in the Wakeham Block on East Fourth street, but as soon as proper arrangements are made, it will be moved into some convenient store and opened out for examination by the public generally. Any fruit or vegetable produce now should be left at John McFarlane's hardware store on East Fourth street, and the Chamber of Commerce will take care of it.

The past few days contributions have been received from J. C. Smith, of Bell County, Mr. Bradshaw of Orange; M. L. Lane and W. H. Smith, of this city.

MONEY IN BANKS TO BE ASSESSED.
Dist. Atty. Scarborough has filed the following opinion in regard to the assessment of money in banks:

"When money is deposited in a bank it becomes the property of the bank, and the amount thereof becomes a debt from the bank to the depositor. This is the result of the deposit. If the bank is insolvent, the money remains the property of the depositor."

"The bank should be assessed with all cash on hand and all solvent credits due to it on first Monday in March, and from the solvent credits only may be deducted the amounts due from it to bona fide residents of the State, which include the State, its general depositors, but the deduction cannot be made in the case of savings banks."

ANOTHER BREAK DOWN.
A crippled engine on the south-bound San Diego train delayed passenger travel again today some time. The engine, which was between this city and Los Angeles, was on south with the delayed train, and an engine was sent down from Los Angeles to take the train back to this city. The train north-bound, was delayed several hours at the south-bound, and was not much out on account of the delay. The train from Los Angeles scheduled to leave this city at 4:30 p.m., was about an hour and a half late in getting off.

SAN BERNARDINO.

The Rialto Murder Case is Enveloped in Mystery.

All of the Suspected Parties Accounted for—An Atrocious Piece of Brutality Reported—Horrible Cruelty to a Young Girl.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 19.—(Special Correspondence.) The Republican County Convention will be held in this city Saturday, and a lively time is expected, as there are many more aspirants for office than there are trustees to be filled. There are several, however, who will be nominated by acclamation. For Superior Judge, John L. Campbell of this city, the incumbent, will be placed upon the ticket via vote, J. W. Tibbot, who was mentioned a while ago, having withdrawn.

For Assessor, no one is mentioned save A. G. Kendall of Ontario, who is now the Assessor.

For County Clerk, J. Wallace F. Dill of Redlands, will be the only named vice, the incumbent being Democrat. The election will not be by ballot, as the present Public Administrator will be re-nominated by acclamation.

The fun will be seen when the District Attorney's office is reached, there being several candidacies. Among those mentioned are F. J. O'Connell, an enterprising young man, who though he declared himself not a candidate, has a large following, who will try to secure the nomination. Frank J. O'Connell of San Bernardino is the choice of Joseph Brown, the so-called ring, C. N. Darnon of Redlands, who is a very strong contender, Col. Eggers, T. J. Ford and C. C. Eggers, all of this city, have been mentioned, and all of them are very strong.

The interest in the nominations was shown at the primaries, when in one precinct, more than 100 voters were present, and in other precincts, the interest was shown by the fact that the voters of all parties in the precinct.

CHARTER REVISION.

Considered by the Chamber of Commerce Directors.

The Position of the Citizens' League Explained at Some Length—Some of the Changes that are Suggested.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the proposed revision of the city charter, as prepared by the Citizens' League. There were present Messrs. Charles Forman, F. W. King, G. W. Parsons, E. F. C. Klokke, E. W. Jones, M. S. Severance, K. Cohn and T. A. Eisen. The league was represented by J. S. Slauson and G. J. Griffith.

M. S. Severance was asked to preside and on motion the charter as prepared by the Citizens' League was taken up and read. In explaining the position of the league regarding some of the changes from the present charter, proposed by the league, Mr. Slauson said that it is believed best to have five members of the City Auditor elected at large rather than to have one from each ward. By so doing the ward lines will not be drawn so closely.

It was further explained as being thought better to have the office of the Street Superintendent and City Engineer consolidated, as the work of those offices is quite closely connected, and it would, in that way, be more harmoniously conducted.

Over the section providing that several of the city officers shall be appointed by the Mayor, there was considerable debate, some of those present expressing themselves as believing it would be better to have the appointments subject to confirmation by the Council, while others maintained the appointments should be made by the Mayor without being subject to such confirmation. A vote being taken, the section was approved as it stood, the appointments being not subject to confirmation by the Council, but the power being vested in that body to remove any appointed officer for cause.

The provision relating to the keeping of books of the various departments was a monthly report must be made by each to the City Auditor, was explained by Mr. Slauson to be for the purpose of having the records in the City Auditor's office a sort of compendium so that, instead of having to go to a number of offices in order to get any particular data desired, the information may all be gotten from the books of the City Auditor.

Upon reaching the section defining the duties of the Street Superintendent Mr. Forman stated that the incumbent in that office is putting a large number of inspectors and it is impossible for the public to get satisfactory information regarding what they are doing.

The remaining sections of the proposed charter were read and were approved after some slight modifications.

BLANDFORD'S CASE.

Convicted of Disturbing the Peace and Fined Fifty Dollars.

At 3 o'clock the preliminary examination of James W. Blanford, charged with assault to murder, was commenced before Justice Seaman. Blanford is the son of a well-known family in this city, and his sister-in-law, Mattie Priestler, with a knife, about ten days ago, at his home on the corner of Belmont avenue and Temple streets. James R. Dupuy, and Charles C. Davis were retained as counsel for the defense. Deputy District Attorney Rush conducted the prosecution. The prisoner's wife, her sister, the girl attacked by Blanford, and a crowded courtroom listened to the testimony introduced, and the heated arguments of the attorneys with an interest which never flagged for a moment.

The first witness called was G. T. McLain, a grading contractor, residing at No. 407 Lake Shore avenue, by whom Blanford was employed, and who was called to the stand at the time the trouble occurred. He testified that he and Blanford had been drinking and five of his other employees had drunk a bottle of whisky at his house, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon in question. He and Blanford then went to the latter's house, at Belmont and Temple streets, upstairs above Kenyon's grocery store, for dinner.

Blanford was under the influence of liquor, and, during the progress of the meal, became enraged because he saw that their landlord, Kenyon, had not fixed a broken window in the room. He picked up a heavy butcher knife, declaring that he intended to go down and kill Kenyon, and started for the door. His sister-in-law, Mattie Priestler, who was also in the room at the time, ran to the door, closed it, and stood with her back against it, to prevent him. Blanford raised the knife to strike her. McLain grabbed his arm and the heavy knife fell to the floor of the door instead, with such force as to break off about half an inch from the point. The knife is a large one, with a blade about eight inches long, and was here introduced as evidence.

Miss Mattie Priestler was then sworn and gave similar testimony. She said, too, that she did not believe that Blanford intended to kill her, but Kenyon, and that they had always been the best of friends. The only threats which the prisoner gave utterance to were against Kenyon.

These were the only witnesses who were put upon the stand, and Mr. Dupuy then addressed the court on the prisoner's behalf. He emphasized the total lack of intention on the part of Blanford to kill his sister-in-law, declaring that no jury would find the defendant guilty on such evidence.

After lengthy arguments on both sides

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT. Consumption coiled, with your system in the scrofulous condition that's caused by impure blood, is enough to fasten it upon you. That is the time when neglect and delay are full of danger. Consumption is Lung-Scrofula. You can prevent it, and you can cure it, if you haven't waited too long, with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That is the most potent blood-cleaner, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder that's known to medical science. For every disease that has to be reached through the blood, like Consumption, for Scrofula in all its forms, Weak Lung, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all severe, lingering Coughs, it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy know that their medicine perfectly and permanently cures Catarrh. To prove it to you, they make this offer: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter what your case is, they'll pay you $500 in cash.

the motion for dismissal of the charge was granted, and a new complaint for disturbing the peace was sworn out. To this Blanford pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to $50 or fifty days.

TEMPORARILY INSANE.

Suicide of James F. Waterman by Cutting His Throat.
James F. Waterman, aged 81 years, who attempted to commit suicide last Tuesday, died from the effects of his self-inflicted injuries at an early hour yesterday morning. The deceased was the father of Charles W. Waterman, Sr., partner in the Perfect-Fitting Shoe Company, and resided with his son at No. 1136 South Hope street. He came to this city last December from Wisconsin, where he had been living with his only other child, a married daughter. Shortly after his arrival here he developed symptoms of insanity. He was not violent at all but was troubled with frequent fits of depression and melancholy, and a nurse was hired to take care of him.

At the coroner's inquest, which was held at the undertaking parlors of Kregolo & Breese, at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the other details of the sad affair were learned. The man who was hired to attend Mr. Waterman night and day was in the habit of keeping the razor with which he shaved his charge in a closet near by. When he left the room about six o'clock last Tuesday morning in making his toilet the deceased got up and, obtaining possession of the razor, shaved himself across the throat, inflicting a wound which, under ordinary circumstances, would not have proved fatal. Mr. Waterman lost about a pint of blood before the hemorrhage could be stopped, which, in addition to his other infirmities, so weakened him that death followed within forty-eight hours.

The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death by committing suicide with a razor while temporarily insane.

The remains will be taken tomorrow to his old home in Wisconsin for interment.

Five drunks figured on the police record yesterday were read and were fined sums varying from $2 to $5.

Wash Goods.	Wool Dress Stuffs.	Hot Weather Comforts	Saturday Night Sale.
The hot shafts of "Old Sol" make this fresh news of wash stuffs doubly gladening for today. The suitability of these goods to the weather, and the suitability of the prices to the goods again explain our electric like power in the distribution of stylish wash stuffs at diminutive figures.	Mountain and beach woollens, the built-for-business kind, nothing tenderer of these goods, except they hurt the tender feelings of those who are trying to get spring-time prices these mid-summer days. A very little margin, a mere commission on manufacturers' price suffices us for this month.	All through our Big Stores that attention is given to small things which go so far to make the grand harmony of the whole. No article so small that it escapes attention, and here, right here, on these little things where the savings come. "Despite not the day of small things."	At 6 o'clock Saturday night we shall place on sale the goods quoted in this column. It is not too much to say that the great crowds on Spring street Saturday night is due more to our great Saturday night sales than any other one factor. It is at these sales that the selling price gets in close communion with the cost mark.
